The Vote of thanks was delivered by Dr. Geetha Varma, Associate Professor, Department of Civil Engineering.

The excerpt of presentation of Mr. Gautam Pant, is as follows:

Stakeholder Management Process

The three major activities a project team performs to understand and plan for stakeholders are as follows:

1. Stakeholder Identification. As with risk management, the first step is to know all the potential stakeholders.
2. Stakeholder Response Development. Determine what these people expect and create a strategy for working with them.

3. Continuous Stakeholder Management. Execute the plans to engage at the appropriate level with each stakeholder throughout the project.

The parallels to risk management begin with this three-step process. The most important parallel is that following this process means that stakeholder management is proactive rather than reactive.
