

A Report on Alumni Talk

On 19th December 2024, the Alumni Club of New Horizon College of Engineering organized an insightful alumni talk titled "Life After College." The session aimed to provide current students with a realistic perspective on transitioning from academic life to the professional world. The event featured the distinguished speaker Mr. Chirag V. Kashyap (Alumni Batch: 2011-2015), Founder of Vaishnav Yatra and Bigger Why Mobility Solutions.

Mr. Chirag shared personal experiences of navigating the challenges of entering the workforce and emphasized the value of building and maintaining professional networks. He highlighted how connections made during college, internships, and early career stages can lead to unexpected opportunities. A key takeaway from the session was the importance of managing time effectively and prioritizing well-being. Mr. Chirag underscored the significance of developing habits that promote a healthy work-life balance. He also encouraged students to focus on building practical skills beyond academics, such as communication, problem-solving, and teamwork.

The interactive Q&A session allowed students to seek advice tailored to their specific concerns. Questions ranged from job market trends and interview preparation to handling career shifts and pursuing further education.

The alumni talk provided valuable insights into life beyond college and inspired students to approach their futures with confidence. It emphasized the importance of preparation, adaptability, and maintaining a proactive attitude toward career growth.
