Introduction

The National Service Scheme (NSS) is a prestigious program that develops a sense of social responsibility and community service among students. The NSS Unit Cell of New Horizon College of Engineering (NHCE) has launched the recruitment process for the 2024-2026 term, inviting first-year students to join this noble initiative.

Recruitment Process

On 14th December 2024, NSS volunteers from NHCE organized an awareness campaign to promote the recruitment of volunteers for the upcoming term. The volunteers conducted rounds across the campus, particularly focusing on first-year students. During these sessions, they engaged with students and explained the significance of joining the NSS. The volunteers elaborated on the key benefits of participating in the scheme, including leadership development, social service, and contributing to the community's welfare.

Date and Venue

The recruitment drive took place on 14th December 2024 at the NHCE Ground, starting at 10:00 AM. This event attracted a significant number of first-year students eager to learn more about the NSS and how they could contribute to various community service initiatives. The event was well-organized, with volunteers actively engaging with students and providing detailed information regarding the roles and responsibilities of NSS volunteers.

Awareness Campaign

Before the recruitment day, NSS volunteers visited various classes across the first-year batch, where they shared information on the objectives of the National Service Scheme and the benefits of becoming an NSS volunteer. These interactive sessions allowed students to ask questions and clarify their doubts. The volunteers emphasized how participation in NSS would help them grow personally and professionally while positively impacting society.

Conclusion

The NSS Unit Cell at New Horizon College of Engineering has successfully initiated the recruitment process for the 2024-2026 term. By engaging with first-year students, the NSS volunteers ensured that the message about the importance of social service and community welfare reached a wide audience. The event was an excellent opportunity for students to understand the purpose of the NSS and how they can contribute to society through volunteerism.

As the recruitment process continues, the NSS Unit Cell hopes to see a large number of enthusiastic students step forward and take part in this meaningful initiative, thereby enriching their educational experience and contributing to the betterment of society.
